

adam

Medicine, BMAT, UCAT Tutor

Education

University of Oxford, Hertford College (September 2019 – current)

- Bachelor of Medicine, Bachelor of Surgery

University of Oxford, Hertford College (October 2016 – June 2019)

- Bachelor of Arts (1st Class Hons) in Medical Science

- Prize for Exceptional Academic Performance

Pate's Grammar School (September 2019 – June 2016)

- A Level: A*s in Mathematics, Chemistry & Biology

- GCSE: A*s in English Language, English Literature, Mathematics, Further Mathematics, Chemistry, Biology, Physics, History, Geography, German, Computing & Statistics

Teaching Experience

I have over 3 years of experience of tutoring students for the BMAT and UCAT. In addition, I have successfully mentored a number of students through the medical school application process and conduct mock interviews in both MMI and Oxbridge style to fully prepare my students. In the past few years, I have worked alongside Oxford academics on a number of private study programs for students ranging from 9 to 21 years old and therefore understand well what admissions tutors are looking for in students.

Tuition Approach

I am a friendly and approachable individual with an enthusiastic passion for both my academic work and teaching. I have spent the last 3 years working alongside Oxbridge academics and admissions tutors and therefore understand what strategies and techniques make learning effective and improve examination performance. I advise against rote learning; instead, I encourage students to fully understand the background and fundamental principles of any topic they are learning.

